ADVENTURE AND KITING...

To be free. Free as the wind. Free to fly away, stop, then start again. Free to live your passion, to stop time in front of a preserved nature.

At Snowkite Sensation, we believe in simple pleasures and this is precisely what we offer you: freedom. This is why our trips are tailor-made for snowkiting enthusiasts by snowkiting enthusiasts. Our clients are free to choose among our services, with multiple options available to them.

Freedom is also moments of conviviality, whilst you can enjoy intense riding sensations, you also want to share them. So take a look at our snowkite travel collection, because what we have to offer, we have already done.

Lovers of wide open spaces and freedom, snowkiting is for you. All our destinations are meticulously designed to cater to non-kiters as well. Rest assured that accompanying friends or family members will have an abundance of activities and experiences to enjoy as well!

YOUR SNOWKITE LESSONS

Learn the basics of snowkiting in the Svalbard. The concept of snowkiting is quite simple and you don't need to be an expert skier or snowboarder to enjoy the many sensations provided by the speed and the jumps this activity allows. A couple of lessons are usually enough for anybody to get the hang of the equipment.

Though physical at first, it is not as extreme as kitesurfing, and more generally, it takes a lot less wind to move you across the snow than if you were kitesurfing on water. Snowkiting is enjoyable on any type of snow: powder, sludge snow, ice (frozen lakes). This makes it a very flexible sport that can be practiced in many different locations as long as they are windy enough. Rest assured, snowkite beginners who already know how to kite and ski/snowboard will be able to manage on their first session!

YOUR

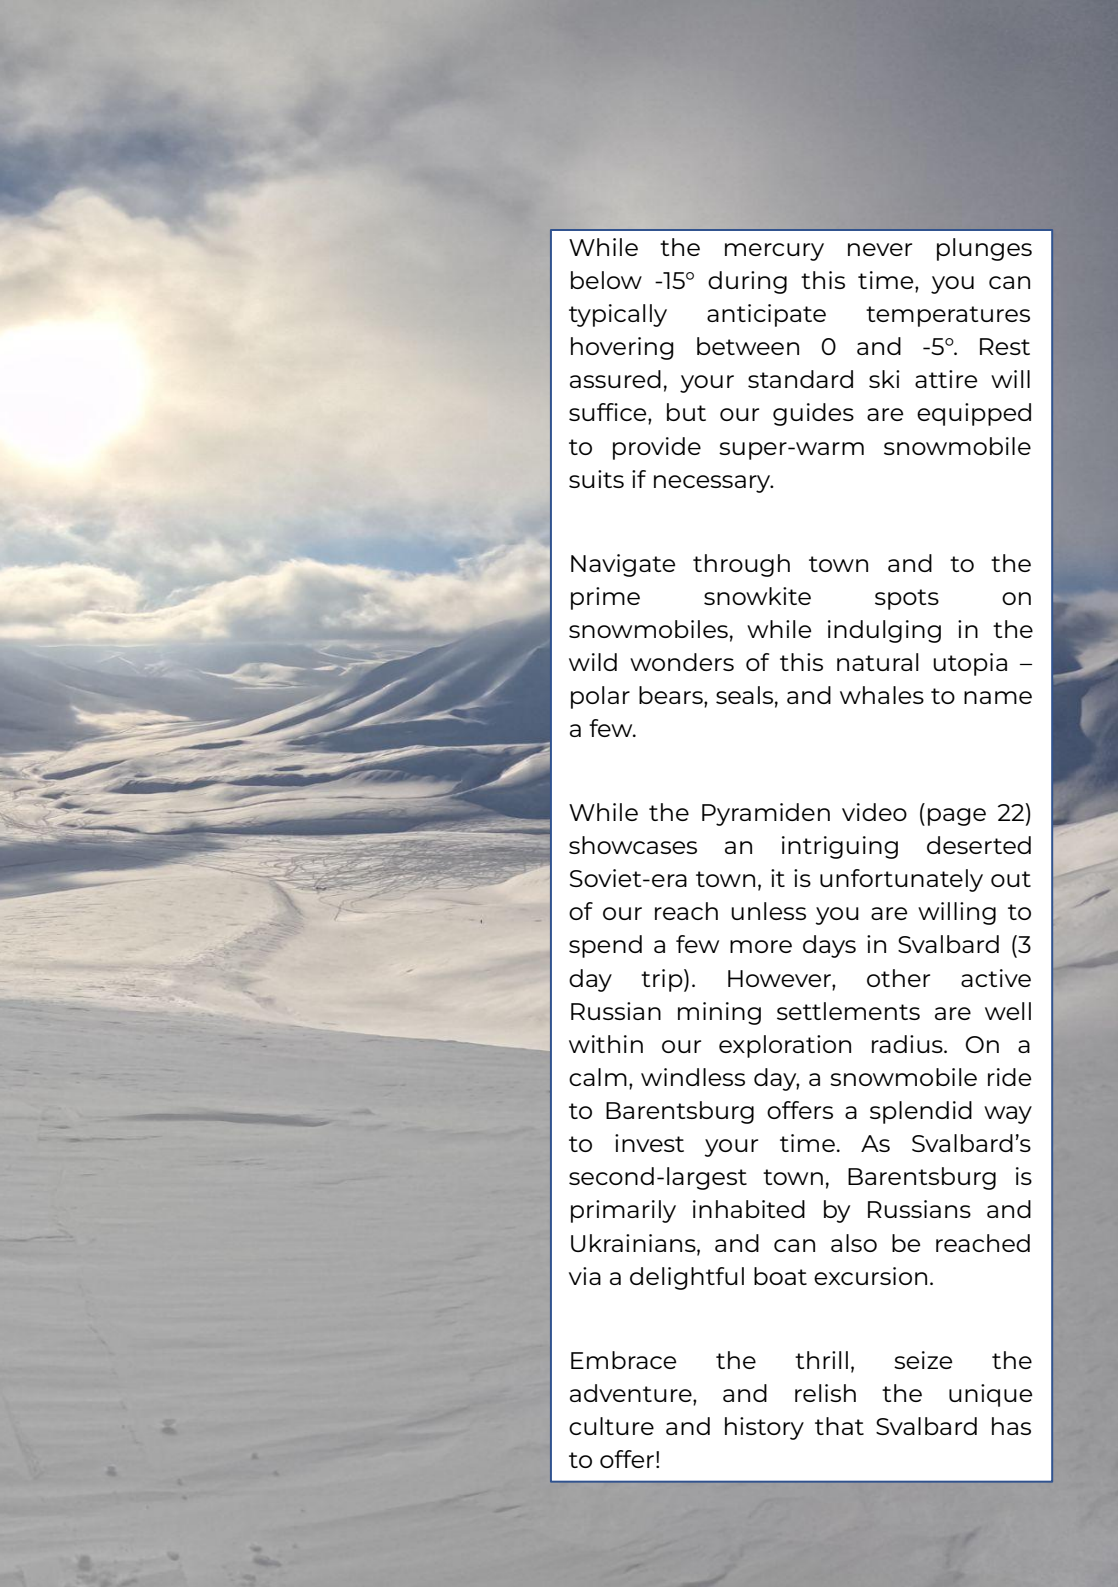

ADVENTURE

Are you prepared to embark on a snowkite adventure like no other? Immerse yourself in the wonder of Svalbard, a remarkable domain that has bewitched bold explorers since the late 16th century. A pocket of pure tranquility, this archipelago flaunts an area of 70,000 square kilometres, akin to the size of Ireland, and an intimate populace of just 2,642 inhabitants – an assured ticket to a breathtaking transformation of scenery.

Since 1920, Svalbard has been under Norwegian governance, mandating all adventurers to first make a pit stop in Oslo before embarking on their journey to Svalbard Longyearbyen the following day.

In this season, the mesmerizing spectacle of the midnight sun paints an ethereal tableau where day and night gracefully merge into one. This extraordinary phenomenon, exclusive to areas north of the northern polar circle and south of the southern polar circle, graces Longyearbyen from April 19th until August 23rd. For an uninterrupted night sleep, we recommend pulling down those blinds!

While the mercury never plunges below -15° during this time, you can typically anticipate temperatures hovering between 0 and -5° . Rest assured, your standard ski attire will suffice, but our guides are equipped to provide super-warm snowmobile suits if necessary.

Navigate through town and to the prime snowkite spots on snowmobiles, while indulging in the wild wonders of this natural utopia – polar bears, seals, and whales to name a few.

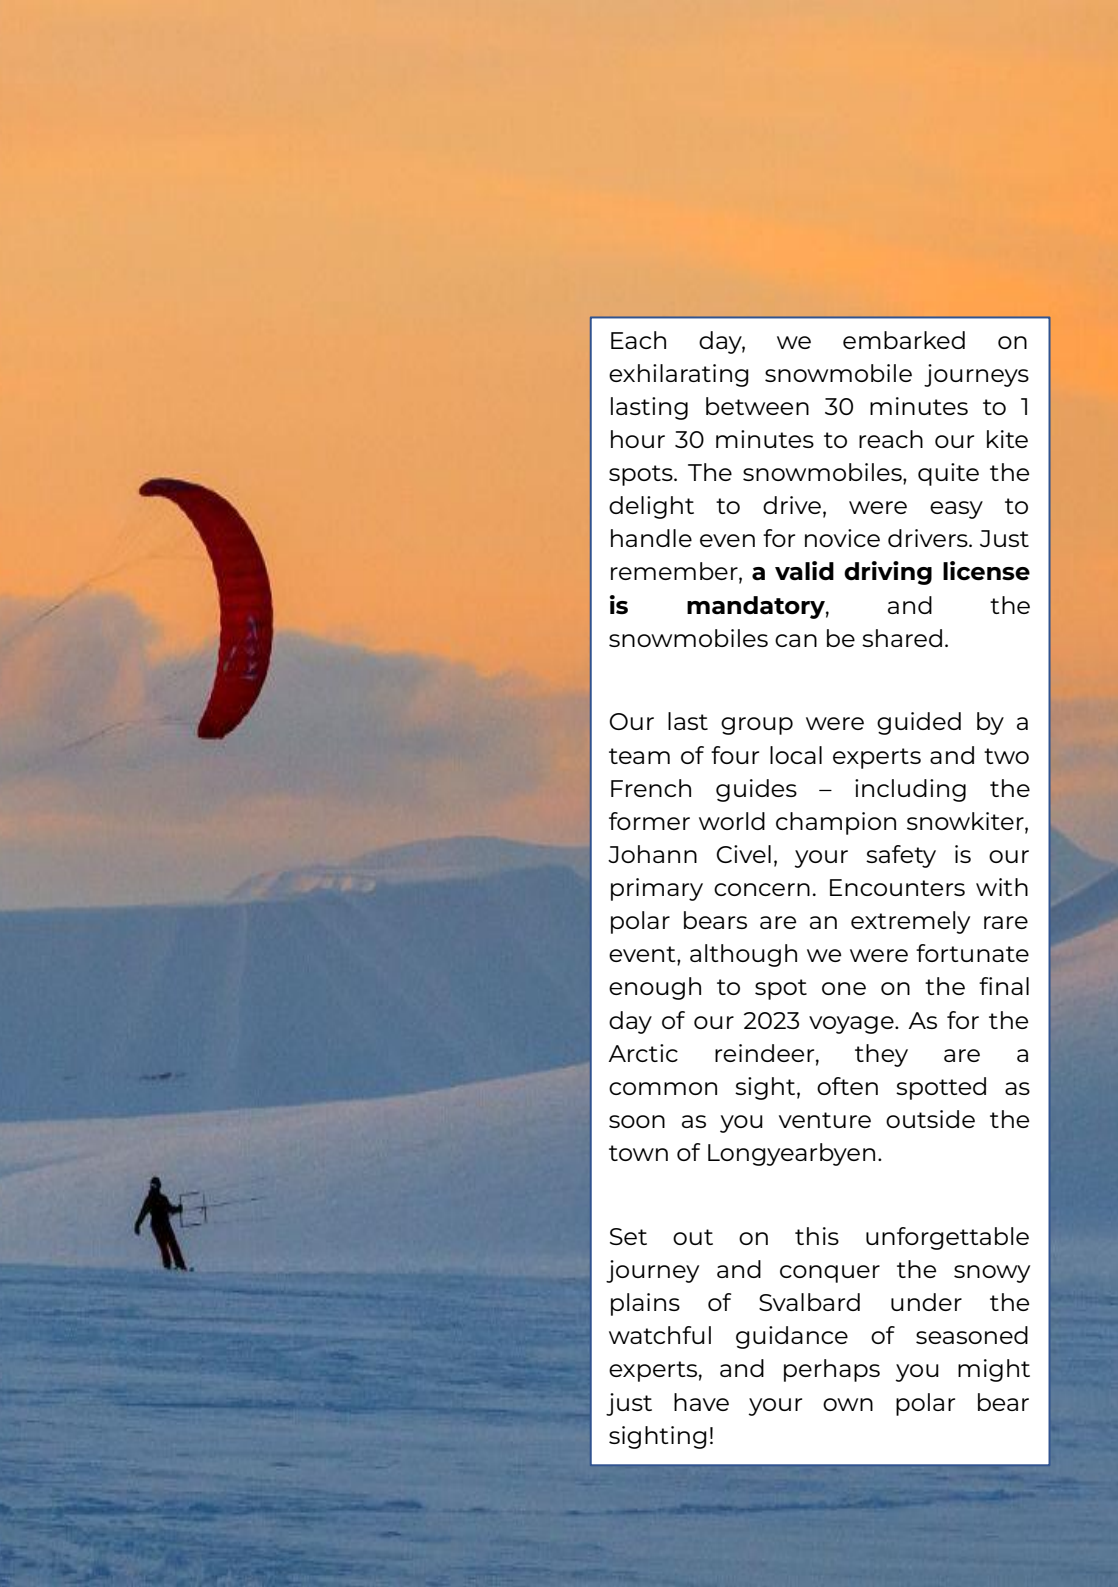

While the Pyramiden video (page 22) showcases an intriguing deserted Soviet-era town, it is unfortunately out of our reach unless you are willing to spend a few more days in Svalbard (3 day trip). However, other active Russian mining settlements are well within our exploration radius. On a calm, windless day, a snowmobile ride to Barentsburg offers a splendid way to invest your time. As Svalbard's second-largest town, Barentsburg is primarily inhabited by Russians and Ukrainians, and can also be reached via a delightful boat excursion.

Embrace the thrill, seize the adventure, and relish the unique culture and history that Svalbard has to offer!

THE SPOTS

Are you set to experience the rush of snowkiting across the undulating expanses of Svalbard? This Norwegian northern haven offers prime snowkiting locations in the South, North, and Northeast. Thanks to a generous snow cover lasting until the end of May, the rocky challenges become a smooth ride under a thick blanket of snow. Glide downwind from majestic glaciers to solid pack ice, and relish the honor of kiting in untouched territories!

Our most recent expedition was a rollercoaster of weather conditions. From brilliant sunny skies coupled with ideal winds to cataclysmic stormy days (just one, thankfully), Svalbard did not disappoint. A not-so-perfect day presents the perfect occasion to delve into one of Svalbard's mystical ice caves. Despite the varied weather, wind was a constant companion during our seven days of kiting. Our astute local guides were exceptional wind whisperers, unerringly finding the hidden gusts.

A person in silhouette is standing on a snowy slope, holding a red kite that is flying in the sky. The background shows a vast, snowy landscape under a warm, orange sky, suggesting a sunset or sunrise. The person is positioned in the lower left foreground, and the kite is in the upper left quadrant. The overall scene is serene and adventurous.

Each day, we embarked on exhilarating snowmobile journeys lasting between 30 minutes to 1 hour 30 minutes to reach our kite spots. The snowmobiles, quite the delight to drive, were easy to handle even for novice drivers. Just remember, a valid driving license is mandatory, and the snowmobiles can be shared.

Our last group were guided by a team of four local experts and two French guides – including the former world champion snowkiter, Johann Civel, your safety is our primary concern. Encounters with polar bears are an extremely rare event, although we were fortunate enough to spot one on the final day of our 2023 voyage. As for the Arctic reindeer, they are a common sight, often spotted as soon as you venture outside the town of Longyearbyen.

Set out on this unforgettable journey and conquer the snowy plains of Svalbard under the watchful guidance of seasoned experts, and perhaps you might just have your own polar bear sighting!

Polar Bears in Svalbard

Home to over 300 polar bears, Svalbard exercises a unique law: it's forbidden to venture out without a weapon.

Consequently, our guides will be suitably armed during your excursions. However, fears of polar bear attacks should remain minimal, with an incidence rate of just one every 10 years.

Though a bear can reach speeds of 40km/h, the snowkiting world speed record stands at an impressive 142km/h. Trust us, any pursuing bear is bound to wear out! Still skeptical? Click here or Scan the QR code below !
